HOT GIRLS

Back in August 2025, @PLAYBABE0 was permanently removed from Instagram under “fake identity” accusations. In April 2026, @NEOWARRAS was also taken down for allegedly “promoting sex trafficking and forced labor.” For both platforms, years of work, archives, contacts, and community networks were erased overnight. Despite multiple appeals, Meta still refuses to reinstate our accounts. But censorship doesn’t erase community. We are still here: louder and stronger. We are now working alongside Repro Uncensored to fight platform censorship.

Repro Uncensored is a global nonprofit documenting and challenging online censorship affecting queer communities, feminist movements, artists, nightlife, and cultural spaces. We are currently tracking a major new wave of removals, with 150+ accounts reported in recent weeks alone, impacting communities across Europe, including cities like Berlin and Amsterdam. @PLAYBABE0 and @Neowarras, along with several of their partners, are among those affected.

Despite appeals and frameworks such as the EU Digital Services Act (DSA), these takedowns often occur without clear explanations, transparency, or meaningful ways to contest them. Entire archives, audiences, fundraising channels, safety networks, and years of cultural work can disappear overnight, threatening civic participation, cultural visibility, and democratic life. This trend is expected to intensify alongside growing concerns over platform governance, automated enforcement, AI moderation, and the influence of US-based Big Tech over public discourse. Repro Uncensored works through research, case documentation, public advocacy, digital safety, legal support, and community organizing to support affected groups, push for platform accountability and transparency, and help build safer, more sustainable infrastructures beyond Big Tech platforms.
